STAINLESS STEEL SHELL

A grayscale photograph of a spiral-bound notebook. The notebook is open, showing two pages. In the center, there is a large, arched window or cutout. Through this window, a textured surface, possibly a book cover or a piece of paper with a pattern, is visible. The texture consists of horizontal lines and a fine, pebbled grain. The notebook's binding is visible on the left side, with several metal rings. The pages are blank and white, except for the central window.

Drying productivity increased
